Pre-dissertation Course Work

The student coordinates all initial enrollment through the Ph.D. coordinator. All Ph.D. degree plans are individualized and are generally finalized during the fall semester of 2nd-year coursework. The student must complete all Research Tool coursework identified on the student's degree plan before the semester in which the student sits for the qualifying exam. The student must complete all coursework identified as a Required Course on the student's degree plan by the close of the semester in which the student sits for the qualifying exam.

Qualifying Examination

The overall purpose of the Ph.D. qualifying exam is to 1) stimulate the student's synthesis of knowledge, 2) evaluate the student's progress in acquiring necessary knowledge and skills at the Ph.D. level, and 3) evaluate the student's potential to be successful in conducting dissertation level research. Students must satisfactorily complete the qualifying examination before they are eligible to become a doctoral candidate and enroll in dissertation coursework. Students may petition to sit for the examination in the fall or spring semester preceding the exam. The exam is offered twice a year. Dependent on the recommendation of the student's Qualifying Exam Committee the qualifying examination may be repeated once.

Dissertation Final Examination

Ph.D. candidates must demonstrate successful completion and oral defense of their dissertation research proposal. Dependent on the recommendation of the student's Research Committee, the proposal defense may be repeated once.

Doctoral candidates must demonstrate successful completion and oral defense of their dissertation project. Dependent on the recommendation of the student's Research Committee, the dissertation defense may be repeated once.
