

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY AND INFORMATION STUDIES

Director: Gretchen Hoffman, Professor

Location: SH 404

Telephone: 940-898-2602

E-mail: slis@twu.edu

The School of Library and Information Studies (<https://twu.edu/slisl/>) offers a Master of Library Science degree, School Librarian Certification, and other graduate programs that prepare students for careers as librarians and information specialists. Programs provide students with the fundamental knowledge and skills needed to be competent professionals in libraries and other information environments. Students develop an individualized plan of study that includes advanced instruction in a specialized subject area and a practicum experience aligned with their interests and career goals. The School does not offer a bachelor's degree in Library Science, but students who earn a bachelor's degree in any field may apply to the Master of Library Science program.

The School offers undergraduate courses that support the Bachelor of Science in Data Science and Informatics program and that support teacher education programs.

Graduate Courses

For graduate courses in Library and Information Studies, see the Graduate Catalog (<https://catalog.twu.edu/graduate/professional-education/library-information-studies/>).